What You Need to Know to Renew Your Business License

What are some of the common problems associated with pest control business license renewal applications that are received by the Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR)?

Some of the most common problems associated with pest control business license renewal applications include: no fees or wrong amount is submitted; no signature; the listed qualified person has not renewed; and invalid (expired) liability or worker compensation insurance.

What is the procedure for notifying DPR of a name change or address change?

To notify DPR of a name or address change, fill out and send in form (PR-PML-002). The form is available on our website. During renewal, name and address changes may be made on the renewal application. In the case of name change, other documents may be needed. Please consult with DPR.

What is the procedure for notifying DPR of an ownership change?

The procedure for notifying DPR of an ownership change is the same as applying for a new business license. Licenses are not transferable. The forms are available on our website.

Who signs the renewal application form?

The owner or officer of the business must sign the business renewal application form.

Are renewal application fees refundable?

No. Renewal application fees are not refundable

If my worker's compensation insurance and/or liability insurance has expired or will expire soon, do I need to submit updated insurance policies?

Yes. You must submit updated policy information if your worker compensation insurance or liability insurance has expired or will expire soon.

Can I fax the required insurance documents to DPR?

Yes. You may fax the required documents. However, because many faxes are not legible, a hard copy should also be sent. Please indicate on the hard copy that a fax was sent.

Can my insurance company directly submit my insurance paperwork to DPR?

Yes. Your insurance company may directly submit your insurance paperwork to DPR. In order to track it, please have your insurance company put your DPR license number on the paperwork.

Does the qualified person listed on the business license renewal application need to possess a license/certificate that is current for the next valid period for the business being renewed?

Yes. In order for a business to be issued their pest control business license, the person listed on the renewal application as the qualified person must be licensed.

Can I renew my business license if my qualified applicator license is not renewed?

No. You cannot renew your pest control business license if your qualified applicator is not renewed or does not have a valid qualified applicator license.

For more information, go to www.cdpr.ca.gov and click on the Licensing quick link.
